

Chemistry -2014

Written by Administrator

Thursday, 19 June 2014 13:10 - Last Updated Thursday, 19 June 2014 13:35

Eight of Danforth's Grade 12 Chemistry students are ranked in the top 15 percentile on the "Chem 13 News Exam; the contest run by the University of Waterloo. Liam Cummins scored in the 98th percentile and is ranked 49th in the world. Peter Zhou who scored on the 100th percentile last year scored In the 97th percentile this year.

Grade 11 Chemistry students have also excelled in the Grade 11 Chemistry contest the "Avogadro Exam". A hearty congratulations goes to Chelsea Chow who scored in the 97th percentile on this internationally written exam. Mark Hollands, Trevor McCourt, and Zak Geogis-Yap have also done exceptionally well, scoring in the top 10 percentile on this exam. Chelsea Chow also received an honorable mention award in the "Ask a Laureate" Essay competition.

We are so proud of your great achievements. Congratulations! J

